POPE DEFENDS HIS ATTITUDE.

Says Rights of Religion are Outraged by France.

Holy See Cannot be Accused of Undue Hostility.

ROME, Dec. 21.—A note signed by the papal secretary of state, Cardinal Merry Del Val, protesting against the search of the papal nunciature at Paris, the expulsion of Monsignor Montagnini and the seizure of the secret cipher, enabling the French government to take cognizance of the papal correspondence and the alleged violation of the right of the Pope to correspond with Catholics all over the world, was presented to the diplomatic representatives accredited to the Vatican today, together with an circular setting forth the motives of the Holy See in the action it has taken regarding the application of the law of 1905, providing for the separation of church and state.

The note protests primarily that the rights of religion have been outraged by the French government's action in preventing the head of the church from communicating with the French hierarchy and by the expulsion from France of Mgr. Montagnini, secretary of the papal nunciature at Paris.

Continuing, the note says:

"The representatives of the Holy See abroad have also received a circular, in which are set forth the motives for the action of the Vatican regarding the application of the church and state separation law of 1905. These motives are so grave that it is evidently impossible to accuse the Holy See of intransigeance or of unjust hostility to the French government in condemning the cultural associations

DISCRIMINATED ON FISH RATES.

Enterprise Line Complains of Pennsylvania Railroad.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Complaint was filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission today against the Pennsylvania railroad and the New England Transportation Company by the Enterprise Transportation Company, alleging they discriminated on rates on fish from New York to Pulla delphia. The Enterprise and the New England points to New York. The Pennsylvania railroad is alleged to be in combination with the New England company, whereby it receives seven cents a hundred on these shipments of fish, while it charges 22 cents a hundred for transporting fish for the Enterprise company.

KING DISMISSES THE PARLIAMENT.

Reads His Message in the House of Lords.

Special Session of Cabinet Held Before Prorogation.

LONDON, Dec. 21.—The King's message proroguing Parliament was delivered in the House of Lords this morning before the members of both houses. It was a colorless recitation, detailing the principal international agreements to which Great Britain had subscribed during the past two months. Dealing with the legislative enactment of the House of Commons, the message expressed regret at the unsettled difficulties surrounding the education question. After the reading of the King's message the members of both houses of Parliament separated until February 2.

The cabinet held a special session today preliminary to the prorogation of Parliament for the holidays. Unusual bitterness exists over the severe blow which the cabinet sustained in the defeat of the education bill.

The announcement of the appointment of James Bryce to succeed Sir Mortimer Durand as British ambassador at Washington is imminent, and it will be followed by a considerable readjustment of the cabinet, with the view of presenting an aggressive front when the parliamentary session is resumed in February.

STRIKE POSSIBLY AVERTED.

Railway Maagers Offer Yardmen Four Cent Increase Instead of Five.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—There were no developments early today in the threatened strike of yardmen on railroads in the New York harbor district, unless the five cents an hour increase demanded is granted in or before tomorrow. No specific hour tomorrow was set in the yardmen's ultimatum, as delivered by James Murdock, the fourth vice grand master of the trainmen's brotherhood.

The general managers of the lines involved in the threatened trouble are awaiting the arrival here of the grand master of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, P. H. Morrissey, who is expected here tomorrow. The managers will not decide what is to be done until he arrives. The yardmen claim that the coming of Mr. Morrissey will mean no change in the situation, as Mr. Murdock has been acting under the direction of Mr. Morrissey.

The railways have offered their men an increase of four cents an hour, which is but one cent an hour less than the men demand. There seemed to be today an impression that the differences were capable of a satisfactory adjustment. The railways affected are the Central Railroad of New Jersey, the Erie, the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, the Lehigh Valley, the Long Island, the Baltimore & Ohio and the Staten Island.

ACQUIRES TROLLEY LINES.

New Haven Road Takes Control of Rhode Island System.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—At a meeting in this city today of the board of directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company announcement was made of the completion of the purchase by the New Haven road of the Rhode Island Securities Company and the Rhode Island Company, operating a system of trolley lines in the state from which the companies take their names. The stock and indebtedness of the Rhode Island companies, as of August 1, 1906, will be paid for at par upon the payment by the present holders of Rhode Island Securities stock of an assessment of $10 in cash per share.

The New Haven directors also announced today the taking of a lease practically in perpetuity of the properties of the Connecticut Railway & Lighting Company, Connecticut. A purchase has also been made of the United Gas Improvement Company interests in several Connecticut power companies, and these plants will be turned over to the Consolidated Railway Company, the corporation which has been formed to handle the electric properties of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railway Company.

The New Haven railroad gave out the following formal statement:

"The New York, New Haven & Hartford Railway Company has purchased the capital stock and al of the indebtedness of the Rhode Island Securities Company, paying therefore in debentures of the Providence Security Company (a Connecticut corporation) bearing interest at four per cent, and endorsed as to principal and interest by the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company, at par for said stock and indebtedness of August 1, 1906, upon the payment by present holders of Rhode Island Security Company stock of an assessment of $10 in cash per share.

Upon the completion of this purchase today the directorate of the Rhode Island Security Company has been changed by a majority of said directors resigning and representatives of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company being temporarily elected in their places, pending the permanent re-organization of the directorate.

In pursuance of the above, Mr. Mellen, of the New Haven road, has been elected president of the Rhode Island Company and the Rhode Island Security Company, A. S. May has been elected treasurer and J. G. Parker secretary of both companies, these men occupying relatively the same positions with the New Haven company.

At the same time a lease has been taken practically in perpetuity of the properties of the Connecticut Railway & Lighting Company in Connecticut and possession has been given to the Consolidated Railway Company, the corporation which has been formed to handle the electric properties of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railway Company.

A purchase has also been made of the United Gas Improvement Company interests, of all the capital stock of the Meriden, Southington & Compounce Tramway Company, of the New Milford Power Company and of the Housatonic Power Company, and changes in the organizations of those companies have been perfected whereby the officers of the Consolidated Railway Company have been elected and the directorate of the companies changed so that a majority of the directors are now held in the interest of the Consolidated Railway Company.

No immediate change is contemplated in the management of the properties or the subordinate offices. Everything will continue as before until the new owners become familiar with the properties.

In connection with the Rhode Island purchase, Edward G. Buckland has been elected a vice president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company, with offices in Providence, and will more particularly represent the interests of the company in all its departments in that locality hereafter.

H. A. Pahlen has been appointed assistant to the president with office at New Haven.

The above appointments are on account of the additional duties devolving upon the existing staff, as a result of the above acquisitions.

AGAINST THE ICE TRUST.

New York State Begins Action to Dissolve the Company

ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 20.—Attorney General Julius Meyer, in the name of the people of the state of New York, today began an action against the American Ice Company in the Supreme Court of New York county for the dissolution of the so-called "ice trust." A summons and complaint, issued here last night, was forwarded to the New York city representatives of the attorney general for service today upon the proper officials of the company.

The complaint alleges as a principal feature of the "scheme and arrangement," by which the company secured practically a monopoly of the natural and artificial ice output and distribution, especially in Greater New York and the communities in that vicinity, that it secured control of the Maine ice field, and caused a reduction there last year of the usual harvest from 3,500,000 tons to one-third of that amount. The other sources of supply are alleged to be similarly controlled.

The key to the ice situation in New York city is pointed out as lying in the company's control of the "ice bridges" or loading depots, by which means, it is alleged, the company is enabled to fix the price of ice, resulting last summer in an increase from $1.20 a ton at the bridges to $5 and $6 a ton to the independent dealers, who are alleged to be controlled by the company and who supply the retail trade and the push cart dealers through whom the poor in congested districts receive ice.

Correspondence of the company with its agents and others is quoted in the complaint to show that at the very time when the company was urging its customers to be careful in their consumption of ice, owing to the shortage of supply, it was informing its agents that the ice situation from the company's stand-point was satisfactory and that offers were being received from various sources, especially from Maine independent producers, of ample supplies and the company was at that time refusing to accept these offers on any terms. It is contended that the efforts of the company were designed to create a popular impression that an ice famine was impending, in order to forestall public clamor against a contemplated enormous increase in the price to consumers, which increase did in fact take place.

It is declared by the attorney general that the American Ice Company had agreements with various independent concerns to prevent their entering the field of competition. In production or distribution, of either natural or artificial ice.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS.
PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 50c.

In some cases the net profit is declared to have been as high as 80 per cent, and that of the wagon sales as high as 84 per cent. That the ice did not cost the company more than $1.91 per ton is insisted upon.

The court is asked to declare these alleged agreements between the American Ice Company and other corporations and dealers null and void, and against public policy, and to restrain and prevent the continuance of the act and transaction complained of.

TO CURB COLORADO RIVER.

Roosevelt Sends Peremptory Telegram to E. H. Harriman.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—President Roosevelt this afternoon sent a peremptory telegram to E. H. Harriman, president of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, and a controlling influence in the California Development Company, calling upon him to close a break at once in the banks of the Colorado river, flood-waters from which threaten to inundate hundreds of square miles of territory in southern California and to create a permanent lake covering a large and valuable area.

Mr. Roosevelt after an investigation reached the conclusion that the responsibility for this damage rests upon Mr. Harriman. Mr. Harriman disclaimed responsibility, but in response to the President's telegram promised to do what he could to meet the situation, trusting that he would have the assistance of the government. The President expressed to Mr. Harriman by telegraph his delight at Mr. Harriman's attitude in the matter.

The California Development Company is operating in Mexican territory under a concession from the Mexican government, and it is said that to the construction of works on the southern side of the border, the overflow of the Colorado river, which now threatens Yuasset, is due.

A telegram was received from Mr. Harriman yesterday, asking that the United States reclamation service erect works on the river where a break has occurred to prevent disastrous results when high water comes, as it probably will come very soon.

For the consideration of this appeal the President called into conference with him this morning Director Walcott of the Geological Survey, Chief Engineer Newell of the reclamation service and Senator Flint of California. They talked over the Harriman appeal and a similar application from Governor Pardee of California. At the close of the conference the President sent the telegram to Mr. Harriman.

HALF HIS LIFE IN PRISON.

Aged Prisoner Pleads Guilty to Being An Habitual Criminal.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 20.—On the sixtieth anniversary of his birth, Charles E. Bancroft stood in the prisoner's pen in the superior court at East Cambridge today, and pleaded guilty to a charge that he was an habitual criminal.

The aged criminal was sentenced to 20 years' imprisonment and that penalty, together with others hanging over him, probably will keep Bancroft behind the bars for the rest of his life. The scene in which Bancroft figured today was but a repitition of a similar one enacted over 12 years ago, when he was sentenced to prison for 25 years for being an habitual criminal. He served 11 years of the sentence and was pardoned.

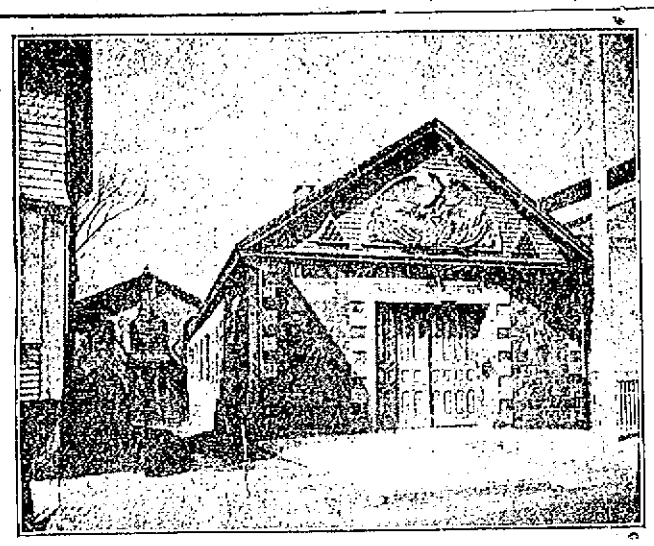

A month ago Bancroft, who is also known as John L. Walker and George Williamson, robbed the house of John Brooks at Watertown, and the robbery resulted in the heavy sentence imposed upon him today. In addition to the 20 years' sentence Bancroft, if he lives, will be compelled to serve the 11 years remaining on the original sentence of 25 years, thereby making his term of imprisonment 34 years. Bancroft has spent a little more than half his life in prison. He has served three terms of three years each. He then went to prison for 10 years and shortly afterward served 11 years of the 25 years' sentence.

FOR USE OF AUTOMOBILES.

Enclosed Highway to be Built From New York to Boston.

HARTFORD, Conn., Dec. 20.—Companies are to be formed in Connecticut, Massachusetts and Rhode Island to build an enclosed highway over private property from New York to Boston for the exclusive use of automobiles, where the owners can go at as high a speed as they like without fear of arrest.

Several years will be occupied in constructing the road, which is projected on a purely business basis. Those who are behind it are sure both of sufficient aid and of the ability of the companies to make money. From $12,000,000 to $15,000,000 are the estimates for the cost of a right of way and the expense of construction. Plans have so far advanced that it has been decided to apply to the legislatures of the three states through which the road is to pass for authority to condemn land for a right of way to construct and operate the road and to charge tolls for its use.

High fences will enclose the road and entrance and exit gates will be provided at intervals. Mr. Shaw of Boston, who is the originator of the scheme, is associated with a syndicate of Boston capitalists in a number of trolley roads. He has enlisted the interest of the Automobile Club of America and a number of prominent automobile manufacturers, and it is claimed that the necessary capital will be raised without difficulty. It is said that W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., and the Whitneys are taking an interest in the scheme. The proposed road will avoid all grade crossings by being carried over or under railroad tracks and existing highways.

AMUSING PUBLICATIONS

"The Auto Guest Book," Grant and Glaewzer, and "A Century of Mis-Quotations," Dimond.

"The Auto Guest Book," Ethel Watts-Mumford Grant and Richard Butler Glaewzer "responsible," is a collection of mobile maxims by Punbad the Railer. The maxims are clever and amusing, and true to life, touching upon the various experiences of the automobilist. Punbad well knows the eccentricities of the machine, "Today thou ridest in thy integrity; tomorrow may discover thee a man of parts" and "Though thou swear by thine auto seven times, the eighth thou wilt swear at it: that is Kismet" being some of his observations. He gives good advice to chauffeurs—"All flesh is grass, but think not therefore that it needeth cutting." In form it is a guest book, with a space for names, time and place on each page. At the end of the volume are advertisements of medicines suited for automobilists. The book is square, generously illustrated and printed in two colors, tan and blue, on paper rich in tone.
[Paul Elder & Co.]

"A Century of Mis-Quotations," by Mary B. Dimond, is a tiny book of great originality. With undeniable cleverness, the author has "united in unholy wedlock" 100 familiar quotations with as many others. There is no break in the thought, and ordinarily no change of metre marks the transition. Many of them are irresistibly funny as:

"If a woman have long hair it is a glory;
Man wants but little, nor wants that, little long."

Each number is formed by welding two selections into one, and the reader is supposed to separate these parts and assign the rightful author to each. A key at the end gives the list of authors.

The following show how the unity of thought is preserved:

"How sweet the moonlight sleeps upon this bank!
Here will we sit, and let the sounds of music
Creep in our ears; dear music that can touch
Beyond all else the soul that loves it much."

"Bonnie Jockey, blithe and gay,
Kissed sweet Jennie making hay—
Gin a body kiss a body,
Need a body cry?"

The little volume is printed in green and black, and has a cover of Chinese green, tied with bright yellow ribbons.
[Paul Elder & Co.]

Round Steak, Swedish Style—One pound and a half of round steak. Insist upon having a reasonably tender cut, as the butcher knows there is a choice even from this part of the animal. Cut into pieces as large as the palm of the hand; have a tablespoonful of butter in a large saucepan; when hot fry the meat quickly on both sides; season with salt and pepper, dredge with a tablespoonful of flour, add a small cupful of water and cover closely; remove to back of stove or turn gas low and allow it to simmer an hour and a half or two hours, adding water from time to time to prevent burning and turning the pieces occasionally.

Escaloped Tongue—Chop a cold fresh tongue, not too fine; for each pint add a small chopped onion, a teaspoonful of chopped parsley, half a teaspoonful of salt, a cupful of seasoned breadcrumbs, half a cupful of hot water and three tablespoonfuls of butter; butter the baking dish, cover the bottom with breadcrumbs, put in the tongue, which has been mixed with the parsley, onions and salt; add the water, then the remainder of the breadcrumbs and butter; bake half an hour and serve hot.

A HOUSEKEEPER'S CALLERS.

[Sarah Van Buskirk.]

She oscillates from door to door—
You'd think 'twould make her dizzy
So many callers to receive
When she's so very busy.
First of the train the milkman comes
With noisy clang and clamor,
And while he waits the iceman bangs
The back door with his hammer.

The grocer's boy comes next, and while
She hunts the coal-oil can,
The door bell's twisted nearly off
By the crusty laundryman.
Now off again to kitchen door—
'Tis the umbrella mender,
And, following closely in his wake,
The noisy scissors grinder.

At side door stands an agent for
The "Cocoon" skirt supporter—
"Can't slip nor tear, nor bend nor break,
And only costs a quarter."
Once more she rushes to the front;
She hears the bread cart's gong,
And as she buys her daily loaf
The truckman comes along.

The hobo and the butcher's boy
Arrive a little later,
And at their heels the hustling, bustling
Feather renovator.
Now the abandoned ironing
At last she gets about—
The clothes are dry, the irons are cold,
The gasoline's burned out.

FANCIES.

"I kind o' has my s'picions," murmured Pickaninny Jim,
"Dat you wants to be a white chile
When de time comes roun' to trim
De Christmas tree wif oranges an' candy canes an' toys;
Dar doesn' seem much 'tention paid to little colored boys.
I's see'd 'im in de window, wif his big fur overcoat
A drivin' of his reindeer like a reg'lar race-track spo't;
But he's allus white-complexioned, an' it strikes me as I pause
To watch him dat I wish dar was a colored Santy Claus.
We nebber gits none of dem gif's dat he's a-bringin' 'roun';
We don't hab fancy dressed-up dolls a jumpin' up an' down,
Ner painted sleds ner wagons ner engines: no, sirree!
Ner great big candy statues—teas' ways not as I kin see.
Dar ought to be some good ol' uncle wif a tender heart
Dat hitches up er mule an' comes a drivin' in a cart
Dat's loaded overflowin' wif all kinds o' good things, 'cause
Dar sho' is lots o' business for a colored Santy Claus.

TEN PAGES.

TROLLEY EXPRESS SERVICE.

It seems probable that at the next and last meeting of the City Council a report will be presented by the committee on streets and highways in regard to the providing of trolley express privileges in this city, as is now general in other places. The committee under the pilotage of officials of the Old Colony Company has examined the new public convenience, and it is to be expected that they will give the city government an expression of their opinion as to it before they retire from office. It is possible that the Council will act upon the report, so that the matter may be settled before the new body takes office.

The company may not desire to establish the service until it secures communication across the Stone Bridge, as it will be more convenient to run freight cars through from Fall River. So far as has been heard, there is no local opposition to such service over the present rails, though probably few Newporters have a very clear idea how it is conducted. Such a service would enable local merchants to send their wares out on the island, but at the same time would give Fall River merchants who now make wagon deliveries on the island an advantage over the conditions under which they now do business in this locality.

CORPORATION LAWYERS.

The corporation lawyer has lost the confidence of the public. This fact has been made evident in many ways of late and has become one of the conspicuous features of modern business, professional and public life. So generally accepted is this attitude of distrust on the part of the people towards lawyers who have acted professionally in behalf of corporations that President Roosevelt is credited with having expressed a doubt whether one of the most able statesman of this country, known the world over for his talents and attainments, could be elected to the highest office within the gift of the American people, because of the fact that he had acted as the legal representative of large corporations.

This loss of prestige in the legal profession is of comparatively recent date and has come about through the prostitution of their talents to the service of unscrupulous corporations by some lawyers who held their consciences for hire as well as their professional talents. In the old days Lincoln, Webster, Seward, Harrison and others of that profession served as corporation lawyers, and yet kept the confidence of the people. The fact that they were professional representatives of corporate bodies was not regarded as an impeachment of their integrity or an evidence of lack of character which should make them distrusted or unfit for office holding.

But the times have sadly changed in this respect and many lawyers appear to fail to appreciate the fact that they stand in a relation to public affairs different from that of mere citizenship, and that they are bound by their profession to give themselves to the promotion of the best laws and to influence corporations to the exercise of equity and justice. So few, indeed are the members of the legal profession who measure up to this responsibility and live on such a high plane of duty that conspicuous examples of those who place public service before private emolument stand out as shining examples of what the legal profession once was and still ought to be.

Such examples are Secretary Root and Governor-elect Hughes of New York, who have been corporation lawyers, but have made that fact not a cause of distrust by the people but a claim to the public confidence. These men have given no countenance to corporation schemes, which involved betrayal of trust, abuses by monopolies and opportunities for graft. They have put their corporation clients on the same plane as others and have exercised their profession for the public good and not for the mercenary object of lining their own pockets or piling up dividends for those they represented, at the expense of others thus defrauded of their rights and property.

The legal profession can hardly afford to have this stigma placed upon it by those who serve unscrupulous corporations with unscrupulous devotion to their clients and themselves, and with no thought of the dignity of their profession or the public good. It is time that the better element in the profession should assert itself and make every possible effort to purge it from the reproach which has been brought upon it and restore the good name it has hitherto borne. There is no reason in itself why a corporation lawyer should be a grafter or a conscienceless member of the profession, and it ought not to be so, but that it will be is evident until the lawyers themselves take up the task of purifying their calling and thus restoring it to its old position in the public confidence and esteem.

THE COAL FAMINE IN THE NORTHWEST.

On general principles it seems hardly probable that the Interstate Commerce Commission and the President can help the Northwestern railroads much in remedying the car shortage. It is reasonable to presume that the railroads are trying to do as much business as possible and not as little, and that their business is improved by the prosperity of the farmers and injured by their inability to sell their crops and obtain money with which to buy stuff which the railroads would haul to them. The presumption is sustained by the fact that all the railroads have been adding enormously to their rolling stock, and for this purpose have not only raised new capital but have used a good deal of their earnings.

But in regard to coal the presumptions are not so entirely on the side of the railroads. Many of the Northwestern railroads are in the coal business, and have a divided interest. As miners they are interested in keeping up the price of coal, and being in possession of the only routes by which coal can be transported from the mines to the consumers they necessarily prevent competition. The coal shortage in the Northwest may be due to the dealers, as the railroads say, but the probabilities are that the interest of the transporters as coal miners has a good deal to do with it.

The coal shortage is not the only thing of which the farmers of the Northwest are complaining. They say they cannot sell or even store their wheat. The elevators are full because the roads do not haul it away fast enough, and, the elevators being full, the farmers can neither sell their wheat nor put it under cover. It is not reasonable to suppose that the railroads are indifferent to this. Doubtless there is a shortage of cars, and perhaps also of tracks. But the grain crops this year surpass all records. The railroads have done a great deal to increase their equipment; they cannot be severely blamed if they have been unable to keep pace with the unprecedented expansion of crops and general trade.

THE CAPE COD CANAL.

The Cape Cod canal has become as much a joke as the Hoosac tunnel once was. But Massachusetts stuck to the tunnel and ultimately finished it, though it has not nearly the commercial value anticipated of it. It was expected to maintain permanent railroad competition for the benefit of Boston, but that hope has been only partially realized. A tunnel is not of much use except as it is operated by a railroad company, and the railroad companies are relatively few in number and cannot be kept in active competition. They are bound to come to an agreement with each other or wear themselves out with rate wars, and the community is coming to appreciate the fact that rate wars mean the destruction of values, and discriminations between the strong and the weak shippers, which are more objectionable than high rates.

Canals offer better prospects of competition than railroads, because they are in the nature of the case open to all comers and there is no more possibility of limiting the number of competitors using them than of limiting the number of competitors using the high roads. The state of Massachusetts shows less enthusiasm over the Cape Cod canal than it did in the early history of railroad development in the Hoosac tunnel, and private capital has never been deeply interested in it. But the report that August Belmont has taken hold of the enterprise indicates that the canal will be made. Of course it would greatly shorten the water route from New York to Boston and increase its efficiency in competing with the railroads.

New York state is spending more than a hundred millions on the Erie canal, to prevent railroads from diverting grain to other ports than New York. There is a canal across New Jersey, and one from Delaware to Chesapeake bay, and another from the latter to Albemarle and Pamlico sounds. Efforts are now being made to induce Congress to enlarge some of these. It would cost a great deal of money, but doubtless their commercial value would be considerable and their strategic value would probably be great in the improbable event of a naval war on our own coast.

The two million dollars' worth of Philippine bonds for water works and sewer systems in Manila did not meet a ready sale, although they are generally considered as high-class securities as any which have been issued by the government. There was only one bid, from New York workers, and the lack of interest is said to be due to the feeling that high rates of interest in Wall street made it unprofitable if not inadvisable to tie up this amount of cash in this form of investment. The bonds were sold, however, at a fair price.

Buffalo Bill invites President Roosevelt to go on a hunting trip and promises to show him some sport with big game which he has never enjoyed. Mr. Roosevelt has said that he would be delighted to accept the invitation if public business will permit. It is a good guess that the President will find some break in his official business which will allow him to accept. He is fond of hunting and will need a little rest after his present strenuous life.

President Roosevelt's action in dismissing the negro soldiers is approved by at least one prominent negro leader, Assistant District Attorney William H. Lewis of Boston. He says the colored people cannot afford to condone any such offence as the troops committed at Brownsville, Texas, and that similar treatment would have been accorded white soldiers under similar circumstances.

New York is rather startled at the announcement that 10,000,000 pounds of oleomargarine or butterine, much of it containing poisonous coloring matter, and manufactured for the most part of disease-breeding fats, have been brought from New Jersey into the metropolis during the past year and sold contrary to the law which prohibits its sale.

The rain and fog are not seasonable, and interfere with the Christmas trade. The excellent weather of the early part of the week, however, enabled a large proportion of people to do their shopping, and there is therefore less rush at the close of the season.

Austria expects to have its Universal Suffrage bill made a law before Christmas. Conferences between the houses of Parliament have led to mutual concessions which make the passage of the bill practically a certainty.

This is the shortest day in the year. For several days the afternoons have been growing longer, but the sun is later in rising. There will soon be a gain at both ends of the day.

Newport liquor dealers should follow the example of those of Providence, and close their saloons on Christmas day.

The New Haven road is going into the trolley business with a vengeance.

THE MUSICAL MAGAZINES.

The December Musical Times opens with a full-page picture of the new quarters of the publishers, Novello, Ewer & Co., Soho, W., a handsome building. The leading article, "Soho and the House of Novello," of necessity furnishes a considerable fund of information and anecdote concerning many famous literary and musical people. Another readable article is on "The Revival of Morris Dancing," with minute descriptions of the old English dance and a reproduction of an old stained glass window showing different moves in the dance. A Folk-Song Discussion and an article on Joseph Bennett follow. The department of Church and Organ Music contains a reprint of the well-known hymn tune, St. Anatolius, with its history, and quite an extended sketch of its composer, Mr. Arthur Henry Brown. In this department is also the picture of the old organ formerly used in Chestnut House. The Christmas carol is Samuel Sebastian Wesley's "Brightest and Best of the Sons of the Morning," and the anthem "There were Shepherds Abiding in the Fields," by Healey Willan. Peter Cornelius is concluded.

Vol. 5, No. 4, Musical America, contains an excellent portrait of Irwin Hasselt, whose playing at private houses here two years ago delighted many Newport musicians and lovers of music. A brief sketch accompanies the portrait. Francis MacMillen adorns the title page, and matters of especial interest are the opening of the Manhattan, Tetrina's refusal to sing for Conried, the touring of "Madam Butterfly" by the Savage company, notable works by Rimsky-Korsakoff to be produced here this season, etc. From the wealth of foreign musicians who are in this country this season Scriabine, the Russian composer and pianist, is selected as the subject of the title page of No. 5, Mark Hambourg and his betrothed, the talk of the moment, appear in photograph, and among numerous other things there is an excellent portrait of Katharine Goodson, the English pianist. No. 3 deals with Gabrilovitch, the Bonci tenor, and his family; Karl Klein, the new singer for "Madam Butterfly," Rosenthal's Wit and the revival of "I Puritani" and reproduces some excellent cartoons of the Caruso incident.

PROTESTED PROVERBS.

[Boston Transcript.]

"Riches have wings." Don't believe it; if they had they'd fly our way occasionally, if only by accident.

"Do a thing on Friday and you'll have no luck." Nonsense! We know a man who proposed to a widow on Friday and was rejected.

"A man and his wife are one." Are they indeed? Try this on in a swell cafe when you are paying for the table d'hote dinner.

"Like begets like." How about a straight whiskey begetting a crooked walk?

"The world owes every man a living." Fudge! It only owes him an opportunity.

"Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty." Not in a court room. It is generally $10 or thirty days.

Plans for Changes in India Street and Vicinity, Providence.

Effort to Close Saloons in Country Towns Christmas Day—New Pastor Installed.

Plans for important changes in India street and vicinity, in Providence, are being made by the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company, according to a semi-official announcement given out yesterday. The new layout proposed will transfer India street, which now is owned by the city, to the New York, New Haven & Hartford, and in exchange the city will receive land for a parallel highway, in which there will be no tracks to interfere with traffic. Although a public highway, India street is practically a long and narrow railway yard. The combination of electric, steam and team traffic necessarily is confusing, and the obligation to provide for teaming is said to interfere with the proper development of the wharf property controlled by the New York, New Haven & Hartford, from the railway point of view. Absolute ownership of India street, therefore, is said to be desired by the company. The understanding is that the company is prepared to enter into any reasonable arrangement satisfactory to the city, and a new highway in every way as satisfactory as India street is said to be suggested as a fair equivalent. India street is approximately 3,600 feet in length and it is not available for passage across the Seekonk to East Providence, as there is a dead end at the river between Washington bridge and the railroad bridge at India Point. Its use thus is practically limited to the freight yards and wharves along the water front, all of which are owned by the New Haven except the wharf of the Boston & Philadelphia Steamship Company, popularly known as the Winsor line. A parallel street, it is stated, can be made to serve all public purposes and will insure an unobstructed approach to all the steamship and railway property, and it is expected that this proposition will be submitted to the city by the New York, New Haven & Hartford. The exact location of the proposed new highway between Tockwotton and India streets is not made public, but it is understood that a short street just north of India may be utilized and that the taking of a slice from the southerly end of the park is contemplated.

Rev. A. B. Cristy, superintendent of the Rhode Island Temperance League, having succeeded so well with the Board of Police Commissioners of Providence in securing an order which will close the licensed liquor saloons of that city on Christmas day, is now turning his attention to the councils of the towns immediately adjoining that city, with a view of obtaining similar action on the part of those bodies. He says the point raised by the Providence saloon keepers that the closing of their places of business will result in the sending of customers to saloons across the line is well taken, and that it will be a good thing if the town authorities require the dealers in their respective communities to fall into line for the better observance of the day. In East Providence, he says, the saloon men will voluntarily close their doors at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. This is good as far as it goes, but something better ought to be accomplished. He speaks of Thornton and the compact part of Cranston, near that village, as desirable places for sobriety on Christmas. If concerted action can be secured, and this can be accomplished with little trouble, Rev. Mr. Cristy says, if the town councils so determine, there will be an observance of the day; such as this state has not witnessed in many years and one through which the public will be greatly benefited.

At the People's Free Baptist Church Rev. Merritt L. Gregg was publicly installed as pastor. In the afternoon Mr. Gregg was before an examining board of ministers and was passed creditably. The church was prettily decorated and a large number of members and friends were present in the evening. Rev. C. E. Cate, D. D., of the Roger Williams Free Baptist Church, Providence, was master of ceremonies. After a selection by the orchestra, the chorus choir, under the direction of Professor G. I. Waltz, rendered three of Mr. Gregg's favorite songs. Rev. A. B. Howard of the Elmwood Avenue Free Baptist Church read the Scripture lesson, which was followed by a prayer by Rev. T. J. Winslade of Park Street Free Baptist Church, and then Professor Waltz rendered an appropriate solo. Rev. John M. Lowden, D. D., of the Plainfield Street Free Baptist Church spoke of the "Duty of the Pastor to the Church" and Rev. D. E. Putnam, A. M., of Mystic, Conn., an intimate friend of Mr. Gregg, spoke on the "Duty of the Church to the Pastor." Hon. J. J. McInerney welcomed the pastor to the town in simple and appropriate words, and Rev. Arthur Given, D. D., welcomed him to the church, while Rev. C. E. Cate, D. D., of the Roger Williams Free Baptist Church extended the right hand of fellowship to the ministers' conference. After the installation a social half-hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served by young women of the church.

Daniel Hynson, who has already made one or two escapes from the State Hospital for the Insane and who is said to be a dangerous man to be at large, eluded the guards at that institution last evening and plunged from a window. Before the astonished guards could make any attempt to get him he was gone. Hynson, who was sent out to the hospital the last time only three weeks ago, was taken into custody at that time because he was making threats against the lives of various neighbors. Those living around his home in Providence became much frightened and asked that he be placed under restraint. A year ago this Thanksgiving Hynson gained notoriety when he entered a restaurant and announced that he was going to clean up the place in true Western style. Before he could put his bloodthirsty plans into effect his attention was attracted by some boys on the street and he chased these with a revolver until captured by the police.

LICENSED CATS.

Every cat owner in Berlin has now to pay a tax, which is equivalent to a license, and each cat has to wear a metal disk around its neck as evidence that the tax has been paid. Any cat found on the streets without this metal disk is taken off to the municipal lethal chamber by the police. This method has already considerably lessened the number of cats in Berlin. The Emperor—who has a hatred of cats almost amounting to a mania—is said to have induced the Berlin municipality to take action.

THE WEATHER.

BOSTON, Dec. 21, 8 A. M.—Forecast for Boston and vicinity—Cloudy and slightly colder tonight; Saturday, fair and somewhat colder; light westerly winds.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The storm central Thursday morning over Virginia and the disturbance over the upper Mississippi valley have united in a weak area of low pressure that today covers the lake region, Ohio valleys, Middle states and New England. It is causing cloudy weather, with scattered rain or snow today over these districts. In other sections fair weather prevails except in the northern Pacific coast states, where moderate rains continue. No extreme temperatures are reported. In New England at 8 a. m. it ranged from slightly below 30 to about 40, at New York it was 40, Washington 38, New Orleans 46, Chicago 28, Denver 50, San Francisco 44.

ATTACKED BY INDIGESTION.

Governor Utter Stricken While on His Way Here, But Much Better Today.

While on his way to this city last evening Governor George H. Utter was taken ill with an attack of acute indigestion and became unconscious. Dr. Frank L. Day of Providence was also in the car, and gave him immediate attention. Upon arrival here the officials who were at the train to meet him at once took him to the home of Postmaster Landers, where he was to be guest for the night, and there he was made as comfortable as possible, though his friends were considerably worried about his condition.

ADJOURNMENT OF CONGRESS.

Law Makers Disperse for Two Weeks' Vacation.

Several Special Messages—Panama Canal, Japanese Matter and Other Problems Treated.

[Washington correspondence of the Newsl

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—When business closed in the two Houses of Congress today, adjournment was taken to January 3, two weeks hence. The legislators always take a holiday of this length in order that they may have an opportunity to enjoy Christmas and New Year's without being handicapped by official business. There is a vast amount of work to be done, and everything will have to be rushed if even a part of the important matters demanding consideration is attended to before the close of the Fifty-ninth Congress March 4. This fact does not seem to worry members, however. The two weeks' holiday has come to be an institution, and unless a radical change of sentiment is brought about it will be continued indefinitely, regardless of whether the business of the country suffers or not.

One of the important matters which will be taken up immediately after the re-assembling of the law-makers will be the ship subsidy bill, which, by agreement in the House committee on merchant marine and fisheries, was permitted to go over until after the holidays. There is intense interest in this bill, and, while the opposition to it now seems to be very strong and very active, persons who are well informed express the opinion that when the time comes the votes necessary to get the measure out of the committee with a favorable report and through the House will be forthcoming. The new idea, heretofore mentioned in these despatches, of eliminating the cargo-carrying feature and subsidizing only vessels which transport mails is not acceptable to those who have been fighting for ship subsidies for years, but it appears that they will have to change their views if they are to get anything at all.

One of the main reasons for permitting action on the proposed legislation by the merchant marine and fisheries committee was the fact that President Roosevelt will send in a special message on the subject after the holidays. This message will strongly urge the granting of subsidies to lines from United States ports to South America, as suggested by Secretary of State Root who asserts that because of the lack of such lines we are not getting our proper share of the business of the "other Americans" to the south of us. Some of the weak-kneed members of the committee who have been afraid that a vote in favor of ship subsidies would injure their political chances at home, are expected to be sufficiently encouraged by the message to support the pending proposition and thus get it before the House.

The present week has been remarkable for the number of special messages sent in by the President. His regular annual message, read to Congress December 4, covered a wider range of tonics, perhaps, than any similar paper in the history of the country, but that it did not touch on everything the President had in mind is indicated by the number of special messages he has since sent in. The most important of those submitted this week were the ones relating to the Panama canal, which was unique in that it was copiously illustrated with views of various phases of the work on the isthmus; the discharge of the negro battalion of the Twenty-fifth infantry for alleged participation in the rioting at Brownsville, Tex., last August and the President's request for authority to dismiss army and navy officers under certain circumstances without the formality of a court martial.

Another important matter, which, however, had been discounted to a certain extent, was that of the situation in San Francisco brought about by the segregation of Japanese pupils in the public schools. The report of Secretary of Commerce and Labor Metcalf, who was sent to the coast to make a personal investigation, accompanied the President's special message on the subject. Other matters referred to in special messages during the week were the Cuban situation, with a report from Secretary of War Taft, and the conditions which have resulted from frauds in connection with the public lands.

Considerable amusement has been caused by the efforts of Peter A. Porter, who defeated James W. Wadsworth in the race for Congress from the Thirty-fourth New York district, to have himself listed in the Congressional Directory as a Republican. Mr. Porter was nominated by the Democratic convention on the same day the Republican convention nominated Wadsworth, and subsequently he was endorsed by the Independence league and the Independents, so that his name appeared on all three tickets. Nevertheless, he asserts that he is a Republican and desires to appear in the directory as such. Nothing can be done for him, at least, not until he actually March 4. After that it remains to be seen whether or not he will be admitted to the Republican caucus.

FOR AERIAL LOCOMOTION.

French Government Making Preparations in Its Public Service.

PARIS, Dec. 20.—So confident is the French government that the day is only a short distance off when aerial locomotion will be practical, that several commissions are actually at work elaborating plans for meeting, in the various branches of the public service, the solution of any new problems which the revolution will entail. Captain Ferber, of the French army, who is devoting all his time to aerostatics, and who conducted the negotiations on behalf of his government with the Wright Brothers, agrees with Santos Dumont that flying machines in a few years will be as common as automobiles today. In the next war he is convinced there will be battles between flotillas of airships.

"Human mastery over the air," said he to the Associated Press, "is virtually achieved. None of the startling achievements of the past, neither steam, electricity nor the telephone can compare with what the future now holds in store for us. Not only will the life of individuals be revolutionized, but governments will be compelled to devise, in almost every department new methods to meet the changed conditions. This change will come with amazing suddenness, and France is taking the precaution to meet it.

"In the customs service present methods of watching the frontiers will be obsolete. Aerial patrols will be necessary to prevent smuggling of contraband across the border. The police of all cities will have to be provided with flying machines to protect the people from the new opportunities of crime which aerial locomotion will place in the power of criminals. It would seem that flying machines would enable anarchists to achieve any end by direct against not only rulers, but whole cities, but with the police sailing about in the air it will be no more difficult to frustrate their plots than it is now on solid ground. In war the intelligence service will be entirely consigned to the aerostatic divisions and armed airships will guard the bivouacs of armies."

Captain Ferber believes the whole solution of the problem of aerial navigation lies in the question of equilibrium, as the principle of flight, that is, aeria of aeroplans, surface and speed, is now demonstrated. The practical maintenance of equilibrium is yet in the experimental stage, and will only be achieved when present crude and temporary expedients employed by Santos Dumont are replaced by a co-ordinating central mechanism which will permit the operator, with an instinctive touch of the helm, to right his machine when it dips to one side or the other, as the bicyclist today maintains his equilibrium by the instinctive inclination of his body Captain Ferber has just completed a interesting series of experiments to prove that birds are powerless to fly until they have been taught. He contends that the domination of the air at present enjoyed by birds was only obtained as a result of a slow process of evolution, comparable in a way, to slow perfection of the present human means of flight.

HADLEY SCORES A TRIUMPH.

Standard Oil Company Abandons Its Defense in Missouri Case.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20—The Standard Oil Company has practically abandoned its defense in the suit brought against it by the state of Missouri for violation of the anti-trust laws there after a stubborn fight that has lasted more than a year and a half. The end came today, when the taking of testimony for the defense before Commissioner Anthony came to an abrupt halt toward the end of the morning session.

The Standard Oil attorneys had put several witnesses on the stand to refute the testimony of the witnesses for the prosecution, and they fared sadly at the hands of Attorney General Hadley of Missouri that it was decided to call no more witnesses until a consultation had been held with M. S. Elliott, the general counsel of the trust.

After the morning session was over the attorneys for two of the three companies involved, the Republic Oil Company of Cleveland and the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, had a long conference with Mr. Elliott. When they returned they consulted with Mr. Hadley, and the announcement was then made that no more testimony would be taken in New York.

There was some talk that other witnesses for the defense might be examined in the West, but owing to the frankly poor showing made thus far by the trust's witnesses it is considered highly improbable that the trust would care to put in any more testimony.

ADDING MACHINES EXAMINED.

With a View as to Their Adaptability for Postal Service.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—A commission appointed by the Postmaster General to inquire into the merits of various adding and computing machines, especially as to their adaptability for the work in postoffices, made its report today. The commission examined 35 machines, of as many different makes, nearly all of which proved to be satisfactory from viewpoints of mechanical arrangement, durability, accuracy and speed.

This for the various machines will be considered by the Postoffice Department from time to time, with a view to securing those best adapted to the needs of the postal service. Notwithstanding the increasing demand for computing machines, few can be purchased at present on account of the limited appropriation at the disposal of the department.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Holiday visitors are arriving daily.

—Mayor-elect W. P. Clarke was in Providence yesterday.

—Among the busy places nowadays are the express offices.

—Colonel S. R. Honey is expected here from Europe next week.

—Owing to the weather there was but one session of the public schools today.

—Red Christmas bells are suspended from the electric light clusters in the Providence line cars.

—Mr. Luigi Latini, who is a student at the Northfield School, is spending his Christmas vacation with Rev. Walter Lowrie on Kay street.

—It is again rumored that "Sea View," at Ochre Point, owned by Mrs. James P. Kernochan, may soon be purchased by Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan.

—Representative-elect and Mrs. Lewis A. Waterman of Providence have returned to their home after having been the guests of Mrs. E. A. Hall on Ledyard place.

—Letters of commendation for gallantry have been sent by the Navy Department to H. B. Bailey, machinist's mate; J. A. Folck, oiler, and J. Jording, gunner's mate, all of the Hancock, for saving the life of Harry Wilson, a newsboy, at the Torpedo Station, December 7. The boy fell into the water and was rescued by the three men.

Into each life some ruins must fall.

Wise people don't sit down and bawl;

Only fools suicide or take to flight,

Smart people take Rocky Mountain Tea at night.

THE PEOPLE ALL

In Chorus Cried, Give Us Newbro's Herpicide.

This word of late has been in everyone's mouth, and many are wondering what the word signifies, though no one has yet been found, who will deny that NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE does the work. Well, for the information of thousands of people who like to know all about a good thing, we would say that HERPICIDE means a destroyer or killer of "Herpes." Now "Herpes" is the family name of a disease caused by various vegetable parasites. A similar microbe causes dandruff, itching scalp, and falling hair; this is the microbe that NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE promptly destroys; after which the hair grows. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

NEW YORK FACES TIE-UP.

Yardmen's Ultimatum Causes Anxiety In View of the Holiday Rush.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—The general managers of the railway lines entering New York which are affected by the ultimatum delivered yesterday by the yardmen, who propose to "leave the service" of the several companies Saturday, December 22, unless their request for an increase of wages of five cents an hour is granted, declared today that they regard "the strike ultimatum of the yardmen as a most astonishing and unfair demand."

A statement to this effect was given out tonight, following a meeting of the General Managers' Association in the offices of Vice President and General Manager W. G. Besler of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, chairman of the association. It was also stated that the managers have as yet come to no conclusion as to what action will be taken, but have requested Grand Master P. H. Morrissey of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen to come to New York immediately.

UNIFORM RATES OF INTEREST.

Credit Currency Will Prevent Panic and Avert Ruinous Crises.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—Chairman Fowler of the House committee on banking and currency, submitted to the House today his report on the credit currency bill agreed upon by the committee. The report reiterates the assertions that bank book credits are identical with bank note credits, and that it should be the option of a depositor of a bank to say whether he shall have current credit of the bank, or a book subject to his check.

The report continues:

Your committee asserts that it is immaterial whether the obligations of a bank are in the form of deposits subject to check, or of credit, bank notes, providing that the reserves are ample and the same amount is required for the protection of each. With the same freedom on the part of the bank to issue its credit notes that it has to accept deposits subject to check, the habits of a people will determine whether the deposits of a bank or its credit notes are the larger.

The advantages of a credit currency are set forth by the report as follows:

It will lower and equalize the rates of interest throughout the United States.

It will make the rates practically uniform throughout the year.

It will give to the country districts as economical a form of credit as the cities enjoy where checks are chiefly used.

It will give to the mass of the people, who use currency in their smaller purchases, as economical a form of credit as those who enjoy the use of checks in their larger transactions.

It will make it possible for the banks generally to solve such of their customers as may want currency, without disturbing their reserves to the great injury of other customers, who have loans which must be paid before the currency can be advanced; for it is immaterial to a bank whether it owes a deposit or a note holder.

It will almost invariably prevent any panic whatever, and will always avert a ruinous crisis.

If at any time contraction of credits becomes necessary because too much of the commercial fund has been diverted and transformed into the investment fund, a credit currency will facilitate liquidation without that destruction of values incident to a fixed quantity of currency such as we now have.

RAIN OF ASHES COVERS NAPLES.

People Fear Vesuvius and Invoke the Saints in Their Terror.

NAPLES, Dec. 20.—Another portion of the crater of Mt. Vesuvius fell in at noon today and caused a great eruption of ashes, cinders and sand. It was not preceded or accompanied, however, by either detonations or earth shocks. This afternoon, for a period of 20 minutes, a rather heavy rain of ashes fell over Naples, and another portion of the crater, on the side toward Pompeii, fell in.

The rain of ashes created considerable alarm in the more populous quarters of the city. Women began praying to the Madonna and the saints not to visit them with another punishment at Christmas time such as came shortly before Easter, the time of the last great eruption.

As the rain of ashes did not last long, calm was soon restored. The ashes continued to fall this evening, however, over Portici, Torre Del Greco, Resina and Torre Annunziata.

A HARROWING TALE.

Constant pains all over, the heart weak, the nights sleepless, choking sensations, a loss of strength and flesh. These are among the many symptoms of Indigestion and Dyspepsia.

The following letter is one of many which show conclusively how Dr. Richards' Dyspepsia Tablets will remove the effects by curing the cause.

"I was a victim of indigestion for more than ten years and could not retain solid food on my stomach. I became nervous and my appetite left me altogether. I doctored and tried many medicines to no avail until finally upon the advice of an acquaintance I procured a bottle of Dr. Richards' Dyspepsia Tablets at W. H. Cotton's Drug Store. This remedy seemed to be just what my stomach needed. In a short time my digestive organs were greatly strengthened and my general health improved rapidly. My wife was also relieved of a bad case of constipation by the little yellow Laxocondits which come with these tablets."

ECZEMA ON HANDS 20 YEARS

Could Do No Housework for Weeks at a Time — Little Daughter's Face and Head Also Covered With Teething Sores — Mother and Child at Expense of $5.00

CURED BY THE CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I have been troubled with eczema on my hands for twenty years. Have been so bad that I could not dress myself or do any house work for weeks at a time. I used several different salves and washes, but they did not seem to do any good. At last I got a treatment of Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Resolvent, and in two months' time my hands were all healed and have never troubled me since.

"I also used the Cuticura Remedies for my little girl when she was cutting her teeth. Her head and face were covered with teething sores. I don't think I paid out over five dollars for the Cuticura Remedies before we were all cured. I think Cuticura Soap is just lovely for the complexion. I keep it in the toilet for my own special use. Mrs. H. E. Gilman, Box 395, Lisbon, N. H., Sept. 14, 1905."

BEAUTIFUL SKIN

Soft White Hands and Luxuriant Hair

Obtained by using Cuticura Soap assisted by Cuticura Ointment, purest and sweetest of emollients. Millions of women use Cuticura Soap, and Cuticura Ointment, the great Skin Cure, for preserving, purifying, and beautifying the skin, for cleansing the scalp of crusts, scales, and dandruff, and the stopping of falling hair, for softening, whitening, and soothing red, rough, and sore hands, for baby rashes, itchings, and chafings, for annoying irritations and ulcerative weaknesses, and many antiseptic purposes, as well as for all the purposes of the toilet, bath, and nursery.

BURCHARD FOR SPEAKER.

Candidacy Endorsed by Republican Assemblymen.

Governor-Elect Higgins to be Deprived of Power of Appointment of Senate Committees.

A vote to take the appointment of senate committees away from Governor-elect Higgins and elect its own committees was the feature of the conference of Republican members of the senate at the State House in Providence yesterday. Only one member opposed the motion, Judge Henry A. Palmer of Cranston.

The house conference, held at the same hour, resulted in the unanimous endorsement of Roswell B. Burchard of Little Compton for Speaker of the house. Both conferences were fully attended, but five or six absentees being noticed.

The senate members elected an executive committee to which all matters of organization committees and rules wer refered. This committee comprises Senators Walter R. Stiness of Warwick, John P. Sanborn of Newport and Henry F. Anthony of East Providence. The committee met immediately after the conference and engaged in a preliminary talk over the framing of rules. In the house conference a committee on rules was appointed and a caucus committee was also named.

Nothing concerning the United States Senatorial situation came up in either conference, according to the statements of members of each branch afterward, and the subject was not even mentioned.

Some of the Assemblymen-elect who ran against the regular Republican nominees in their towns, but who have been looked upon, nevertheless, as Republicans, were present at yesterday's conferences. Others were not. In the absence of some there was no special significance, but in one case there was.

In the senate meeting all the members were present with the exception of Senator J. Eugene Littlefield of New Shoreham, William Fred Williams of Bristol and Whiting Metcalf of Richmond. Senator Littlefield was elected on a Republican and Democratic ticket, but the Democrats have never claimed him in figuring the size of their minority in the new senate. The other two absentees were elected as straight Republicans. Among those present was William I. Frost, who ran on a citizens' ticket against the regular Republican nominee for senator in Tiverton, George R. Lawton, and who has all along been rated with the Republicans.

The absentees at the house gathering to whom invitations had been extended included Judge Elmer J. Rathbun of West Greenwich, Ray G. Lewis of New Shoreham and Albert N. Luther of Scituate. Judge Rathbun is well known as a Republican, and Mr. Lewis, elected as an independent on the Champlin ticket in Block Island against the combined Democratic-Republican forces, is also confidently counted as with the Republicans.

Mr. Luther of Scituate is the only man concerning whom there seems to be a doubt. He has the distinction of having been invited to the private conferences of both the Democratic and Republican Assemblymen-elect. Up to this time he has responded to the invitations of neither, so that the claim of the Republicans upon him appear to be as good as that of the Democrats.

Howard R. Peckham of Middletown, elected to the house on a citizen's ticket opposed to the regular Republican nominees, was present and made clear his status by declaring that he was a Republican and stands with the party in the coming session.

The senate conference adopted a motion, made by Senator Stiness, that the senate should name its own committees, instead of leaving them to the appointment of the governor, as has been customary in years when the governor and senate have been of the same political party. The vote on Senator Stiness's motion was carried on a aye and no vote, Senator-elect Palmer alone voting in the negative. The Senate meeting was called to order by Senator Henry F. Anthony of East Providence, who presided as chairman. William F. Caswell of Jamestown was chosen secretary. Lieutenant Governor Frederick M. Jackson was present and took part in the proceedings. David J. White, who has officiated as reading clerk of the senate for several years, was again selected for that position.

After an informal discussion as to the best method of dealing with the matters of rules and committees, the suggestion was made that an executive committee be named, with full authority to prepare a draft of rules for the senate and to draw up a committee slate.

After the sense of the meeting had been taken on the proposition that the senate name its committees and the proposition had been sustained with but one dissenting voice, the executive committee was named as above stated.

The conference then adjourned to the call of the executive committee. A brief meeting of the executive committee was then held, the change in rules regarding the naming of senate committees agreed upon and the make-up of the committees being deferred to some future date.

The house conference resulted in the appointment of a committee on rules, consisting of Judge James Harris of Smithfield, Colonel Zenas W. Bliss of Cranston and Samuel W. K. Allen of East Greenwich. A caucus committee was also named consisting of Roswell B. Burchard, Judge Harris, Samuel W. K. Allen, Colonel Bliss and Judge Elmer J. Rathbun of West Greenwich.

Charles H. Howland was nominated for recording clerk and Raymond G. Mowry reading clerk.

The house conference was called to order by Judge Harris. All but three of those invited were present, the absent members being Elmer J. Rathbun of West Greenwich, Ray G. Lewis of New Shoreham and Albert N. Luther of Scituate.

Colonel Zenas W. Bliss of Cranston was chosen chairman and Clark Burdick of Newport secretary.

Philip A. Money of Exeter nominated Roswell B. Burchard of Little Compton for Speaker and the nomination was seconded by several. There were no counter nominations and no speeches, and no nay votes when the nomination was put.

After the nomination of clerks of the house and the appointment of the committees on caucuses and rules, it was voted to hold another caucus Tuesday, January 1, inauguration day, at 11 a. m.

Mr. Burchard, the choice for Speaker, then addressed the meeting, expressing his pleasure at the friendship manifested for him in the action of the conference and promising faithful service if he is chosen to fill the chair.

Howard R. Peckham of Middletown, who was elected on a citizens' ticket, also made a speech in which he declared his allegiance to the Republican party.

COME
With the Crowds!

Such happy crowds, fairly intoxicated with long draughts of the constant, ever increasing delight this holiday dreamland is creating. Be as happy as they; singing, dancing, laughing, jesting—happy at finding just this or just that at the mere thought of price. Not a single member of the family slighted, from the dear little mites teasing for their horses, their carts or their little doll carriage, to grandma, happy at some little china token, or better perhaps, some big comfortable rocking chair in which to while away the weary winter hours.

The hours of this Fairyland, where every modest gift finds room for such expansion, are numbered now. Don't put it off till the morrow.

SANTA CLAUS'S SURPRISE.

He always has some surprise stored away up his sleeve, he can't rest easy unless he's making somebody happy. You remember two years ago he gave all a whole year's subscription to a beautiful magazine, the dear old soul, and how happy you were with it the whole year long. This year he's brought another souvenir with him that's going to make you remember him for years to come, something he had made for him over in Germany. 'Twould sell for 50 cents but he'd rather give it away and see your happy face wreathed in smiles—that pays him more than all the money you leave him. So to every person purchasing one dollar's worth from his Xmas Fairland he presents a beautiful hand made clothes brush, that through the years to come you may have a daily reminder of Dear Old Santa Claus of 1906.

A 50c. Gift With Every Dollar Purchase.

A CHRISTMAS DINNER.

Partridge Vines and Ferns Form Attractive Centrepiece.

Place Sprig of Holly at Each Plate—The Room Decorations Should be of Evergreen and Red Berries.

[Cornelia C. Bedford.]

Oyster Cocktails.
Consommé Cheese Croutons
Halibut Timbale Lobster Sauce
Roast Turkey Giblet Gravy
Cranberry Jelly
Browned Potatoes Baked Onions
Roast Wild Duck Chicory Salad
Ice Cream with Red Cherry Sauce.
Celery Salted Nuts Bonbons
Coffee.

As a centrepiece for this dinner use a low dish filled with growing partridge vines and tiny ferns; a sprig of holly at each place and room decorations of Christmas greens and holly.

Oyster cocktails are suggested rather than those on the half shell, as they can be made from what are known as "keg oysters" when those in the shell are not on sale in the smaller towns. For each person take six small oysters; mix together one quarter of a teaspoonful of freshly grated horse radish, one teaspoonful of lemon juice, two drops of tabasco, 10 drops of worcestershire and one teaspoonful of tomato catsup. Put the liquid mixture in a cocktail glass and rinse and drain the oysters; do not, however, add them to the glass until just ready to serve, as the acid will quickly toughen them.

Consommé is a clear, amber colored soup made with beef and chicken or veal. For the croutons passed with it take slices of stale bread and stamp them out in three-inch rounds or stars. Saute these quickly in a little butter until pale brown. For eight croutons cut fine or grate six ounces of stale cheese; put in a saucepan with a scant teaspoonful of butter and one tablespoonful of tomato catsup. Stir over the fire until the cheese is melted then spread over the croutons. Three minutes before serving dinner place them in the hot oven until the cheese is soft, then take up at once on a hot plate.

Take one pound of nice halibut, wash, drain, remove skin and bones; cut in pieces and run through the food chopper, then pound to a paste and rub through a sieve. Stir into the pulp one half of a cupful of thick, sweet cream whipped solid, two thirds of a teaspoonful of salt, dash of cayenne and the stiffly whipped whites of three eggs. Mix lightly and carefully. Turn into a fish mold thoroughly brushed with a little melted butter. Stand in a pan of hot water, cover and cook slowly until it feels firm when lightly pressed along the centre; this will take from 25 to 40 minutes according to thickness. Turn out carefully on a platter. Have ready two thirds of a pint of rich cream sauce. Add to this a scant cupful of lobster meat, the claw meat diced. Season with salt, pepper and lemon juice and pour around the mold.

With the turkey is served the scarlet jelly of the cranberry and for eight a heaping quart of the berries will be needed. Pick over and wash, then put them in a saucepan with one cupful of cold water and one pint of sugar. Cover and heat slowly. Boil for 10 minutes after the berries begin to "pop," being careful that they do not boil over. Rub quickly through a sieve and turn at once into a glass dish or small molds. Do not use tin as it will impart a disagreeable taste.

Use small potatoes of even size; scrub and boil them in their jackets. When just tender drain and let stand a moment to dry, then carefully remove the skins. Five minutes before serving plunge into deep, smoking hot fat and cook golden brown. Drain on paper and when in the dish sprinkle with salt and finely chopped parsley.

Allow one good-sized onion for each person. Peel and carefully remove the centres, then steam for an hour. Make a stuffing with the turkey liver, two tablespoonfuls of fine bread crumbs, the chopped onion hearts and a high seasoning of salt and pepper. Put side by side in a baking dish, pour in stock an inch deep and bake for one hour and a half in a slow oven; if too hot cover for part of the time. Twenty minutes before serving put a teaspoonful of buttered crumbs on top of each onion.

Two ducks should be allowed for eight persons. They are not stuffed and should be roasted but half an hour in a hot oven, as they are served quite rare. One the plate with them serve a few leaves of the dressed salad; if chicory is impossible use lettuce or other green salad plant with a French dressing.

Scald one pint and a half of milk in a double boiler; add one heaping tablespoonful of flour blended with a little cold milk, stir until slightly thickened then cover and cook half an hour. Beat together five eggs and two scant cupfuls of sugar, turn into the cooked milk and stir until thickened like custard. Add a pinch of salt, strain and set away until cold. Flavor with one tablespoonful of vanilla and three tablespoonfuls of sherry, add one pint of heavy cream and freeze. Open a can of preserved red cherries, take out the fruit and chop fine. Add enough of the syrup to make a thick sauce. In serving put a spoonful of the cream in a tall stemmed glass and pour some of the syrup over it. Other fruits may be substituted for cherries and the sauce may have added to it a little maraschino or other cordial.

In salting nuts scald and remove the skins from a pint of shelled almonds. Spread out on a flat pan and let stand in the open oven for several hours until dry and crisp but not colored. Pour over them a teaspoonful of melted butter and stir until they are evenly greased. Spread out again, sprinkle with salt and place in a moderate oven until a pale brown. Spread on soft paper until cold.

APPEAL MAY BE ISSUED.

Condition of Chinese Famine Sufferers Considered by Cabinet.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Reports having been received here from consuls and other officials of the State Department that the condition of the famine sufferers in China is worse than at first supposed, the matter, at the instance of the American National Red Cross, was brought to the attention of the cabinet today. It is probable that an appeal will be issued for supplies and steps taken to assign one or more army transports to the work of transporting them.

In order to send a government vessel, it will be necessary, however, to secure the consent of Congress, and to this end Secretary Taft will consult with the members of the military committee of the House and Senate.

BULLET DID NO HARM.

Unsuccessful Attempt to Kill Probate Judge of Chicago.

CHICAGO, Dec. 21.—A desperate effort was made today to assassinate Judge Charles S. Cutting of the probate court, the assailant being Frank F. Ellerbrock of this city. Ellerbrock is believed to be insane. Judge Cutting escaped injury by a hair's breadth and overpowered his assailant after a fierce fight.

As the judge entered the criminal court building on his way to his chambers Ellerbrock, who was standing in the hallway, stepped forward and when within two feet of Judge Cutting drew a revolver and fired. Judge Cutting instantly turned and struck his assailant a heavy blow in the face, almost knocking him down. Before Ellerbrock could recover Judge Cutting seized him by the throat and held him, despite his desperate efforts to escape. Two deputy sheriffs, who had heard the shot, hastened to the assistance of Judge Cutting and wrested the revolver from Ellerbrock. Judge Cutting then released Ellerbrock, who attacked him again. The judge, with the assistance of the two deputy sheriffs, finally overpowered Ellerbrock, who begged for mercy. He was taken to the police station, where his name was ascertained.

Judge Cutting throughout the excitement remained cool and collected. After seeing that Ellerbrock was safely in custody he went on to his court room, and within a few minutes was transacting business as usual.

Ellerbrock had been involved in litigation over the estate of his sister, and had appealed to Judge Cutting to re-open the case. At the police station he talked incoherently about the money he said he should have received from Judge Cutting.

The police declare that Ellerbrock is undoubtedly insane, and will take steps to have him sent to an asylum.

Judge Cutting, who acknowledged that he had had a "pretty close shave," said he had no doubt that the man was insane. He added that he had never had anything to do with the estate in question, which had been settled by another judge.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that new very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

For stomach distress, blasting, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Dr. Shoop's Liquid—and test for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend Chicago Society Woman Who Was So Sick She Could Not Sleep or Eat, Cured by Doan's Kidney Pills.

When a woman's kidneys go wrong, her back gives out and every little task becomes a burden. She is tired, nervous, sleepless, run down—suffers daily from backache, headaches, dizzy spells, and bearing-down pains.

Don't worry over imagined "female troubles." Cure the kidneys and you will be well. Read how to find the cure.

Marion Knight, of 33 N. Ashland Ave., Chicago, Ill., member of the Chicago Federation of Musicians and a well-known club woman, says: "This winter when I started to use Doan's Kidney Pills I ached in every bone and had intense pains in the kidneys and pelvic organs. The urine was thick and cloudy, and I could barely eat enough to live. I felt a change for the better within a week. The second week I began eating heartily. I began to improve generally, and before seven weeks had passed I was well. I had spent hundreds of dollars for medicine that did not help me, but $6 worth of Doan's Kidney Pills restored me to perfect health."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Miss Knight will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Sold by all dealers; price, fifty cents per box.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21, Wall Street.—The stock market opened irregular with Amalgamated Copper at 113⅛, American Smelting 149¾, Anaconda 288, Atchison 102⅜, Brooklyn Transit 81, Canadian 195, Colorado Fuel & Iron 56¼, Great Northern preferred 260, Louisville 144½, New York Central 140, Northern Pacific 197½, Norfolk & Western 91 ex-rights, Pennsylvania 137⅝, Reading 140⅜, Rock Island 30, Sugar 133, St. Paul 152, Southern Railway 35, Southern Pacific 92⅜, Union Pacific 181⅜, United States Steel 47⅞, United States Steel preferred 104.

10—There was meagre dealing in the stocks when the market opened, and fluctuations were narrow and generally mixed. Northern Pacific preferred rose 1⅛, the Ore certificates 1¼ and St. Paul⅜. American Ice lost a point.

11—Liberal offering of Reading decided the immediate trend of prices of the general list. The drop in Reading was supplemented by moderate selling of the Hill stocks. St. Paul, Union Pacific and other stocks in turn came under pressure, until the entire list was selling below yesterday's closing. Reading sagged 2⅝, Northern Pacific 2¼ Great Northern preferred and American Ice Securities two, Northwestern 1½, Canadian Pacific 1¼ and Louisville & Nashville and Smelting 1. General Electric and Chicago & Alton rose a point.

Noon—Money on call, easier, at 8 @ 8½ per cent; prime mercantile paper, 6 @ 7½ per cent. Some further declines in the Hill stocks were followed by an effective rally. Losses ran in Northern Pacific to 3⅜, Great Northern preferred 3, Northwestern 2, Canadian Pacific 1⅜ and Illinois Central 1½. St. Paul led the rally with a rise to 1¼ over last night.

FIRST WARDERS MEET.

Delegation to Representative Council Appoints a Committee to Confer With Others.

The members-elect of the Representative Council from the First ward met last evening in the Council chamber at the City Hall and selected Councilmen F. P. Gladding and Robert Kerr and Councilman-elect Philip H. Caswell to represent the ward in the conference of the various delegations to prepare a plan for the starting of the business of the new Council, Despite the heavy rain there were 25 or 26 of the members present. Councilman Gladding presided.

After the committee had been selected there was a general talk on the charter and a demand for copies, so that the members-elect might refresh their memories as to what the document provides. It developed that, while copies of the charter had been mailed to every voter in town, many of the members-elect had thrown theirs away. It is probable that this matter will receive consideration and perhaps copies of the charter and lists of the members-elect of the new Council will be provided for the members, so that they may know where they are.

It will be remembered that when the other ward delegations met last week and elected delegates to attend the conference the First Wardens did not elect. They thought the meeting was a trifle premature and that it would be better to wait until the members-elect had been formally notified of their election. It was agreed by the members who were seen that a conference of representatives of the various wards is a necessity if the new charter and the new city government are to make a start with any prospect of doing business promptly. Accordingly, when the credentials were sent out by City Clerk Stevens, which was done immediately after the conclusion of the recount, the members-elect were called together to select a delegation to represent the First ward in this conference.

PORTSMOUTH.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

Pretty little wooden cards of invitation have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. William D. Anthony, inviting their friends to celebrate their wooden wedding at the guild house Wednesday evening, December 26.

Mrs. Herbert Chase has been spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. James H. Fish.

Mrs. Charles G. Clarke and her son have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Anthony.

There was a small attendance at the parsonage Wednesday, of St. Mary's guild.

Mrs. A. G. Manchester has returned from a visit to Tiverton.

Mrs. Cornelius S. Greene and Miss Elizabeth Greene have been guests of Mrs. Wanton P. Sherman, Newport.

Mrs. Grace Bailey of Worcester, who has been guest of her mother, Mrs. J. A. Sisson, for a few days, has returned home.

Mrs. Alfred G. Vanderbilt has given all the Christmas trimmings for St. Mary's Church and all the candy—Huyler's—for the Christmas tree. It is hoped to have all the decorations in place for Sunday.

A Portuguese woman working for Mrs. Richard R. Macomber lost a pocketbook containing about $50 in Newport Thursday. As she can neither speak nor understand English the misfortune falls doubly hard upon her.

The Christmas tree service for the Sunday School of St. Mary's parish will be held New Year's afternoon.

RE-OPENING OF THE ARMORY.

Formal Dedication of Artillery's Enlarged Building.

Historical Address by Captain King—Description of Improvements in Renewed Structure.

The Newport Artillery opened its enlarged and improved armory to its many friends last evening, and the renewed structure was formally dedicated by a pleasing program of music and a historical address by Captain and Adjutant Frank P. King, chairman of the building committee, who turned over the building to Lieutenant Colonel Edward F. Cooper, commanding the company in the absence of Colonel Charles L. F. Robinson. It had been expected that Governor Utter would be present and make a brief address, but his sudden illness while he was on his way to Newport made that impossible. After the formal program the new armory was thoroughly inspected by the many present, and one and all congratulated the company on its new quarters. After a collation had been served there was informal dancing.

No hour had been set in the invitations for the entertainment, and the guests began to arrive at 8 o'clock and continued to come until the formal exercises were more than half over. The guests, as they arrived, were met at the door by Lieutenant Colonel Cooper and the other officers of the company, and either shown to seats or allowed to make their inspection under the escort of one or another of the members of the company. The guests included Senator John P. Sanborn and Representatives Robert S. Burlingame, Robert S. Franklin and Clark Burdick of Newport, Senator William F. Caswell of Jamestown, Representative-elect Howard R. Peckham of Middletown, members of the City Council, Colonel John H. Wetherell, Assistant Adjutant general of the state; Colonel Harold A. Peckham of the governor's staff, Sheriff James Anthony, Clerk Charles E. Harvey, Charles H. Clarke, Surgeon Major Gibson, Captain Lanza, Captain Cook, Captain Ellis and Lieutenant Metcalf from Fort Adams, who were accompanied by Miss Gibson, Mrs. Metcalf and Miss Metcalf, officers of the Kentish Guards and Bristol Train of Artillery, Lieutenants Lawton and Richardson of the Newport Naval Reserves, Major James A. McGourty of the Ninth Massachusetts Infantry, Bandmaster Freeman of the Seventh Artillery Band, past Colonels J. W. Horton, Herbert Bliss and J. D. Richardson, and many past members of the Artillery. In the large gathering fully half were ladies, who added to the attractiveness and interest of the occasion.

The program opened with a selection by the Seventh Artillery orchestra, after which the Euterpe Club sang "Awake, 'Tis Morning!" followed by Mr. Clarence H. Wilson of Boston, who sang "Go to Sea," in a manner that awakened the liveliest interest and caused a hearty encore. The Euterpe Club sang again "The Beautiful Rose," "Way down upon the Suwanee River" and "The Old Folks at Home," and Mr. Wilson "The Yeoman's Wedding." "She had a Rose in her Hair" and other selections, in which his rich, deep voice was heard to excellent advantage. Miss Florence Carley was the accompanist. Between the musical selections Captain Frank P. King, in behalf of the building committee, the architect and the contractors, turned the building over to Lieutenant Colonel Cooper, giving a succinct and interesting history of the company from its organization in 1741, its various public services in the 165 years of its existence and a review of the history of the armory from its first erection in 1832, its lengthening in 1873 and its burning and re-construction in 1906.

Lieutenant Colonel Cooper accepted the building in a brief address, thanking the committee for its efforts in behalf of the company, Colonel Robinson, through whose efforts the enlargement of the armory was made possible, the contractors and the many friends who by their good will and otherwise contributed to the success of the movement.

Following the program a collation was served by Muenchinger, assisted by the members of the company, and then came the more general inspection of the new building and later dancing, completing a successful and interesting occasion.

It is essentially a new armory which the Artillery now occupies, although many of the old features are retained. And while the orchestra played "Home Again" as the transfer to the commanding officer was made, there were many of the former members of the company who felt in their hearts that another tune, "The old home is not what it used to be" was to them more appropriate. The exterior, as well as the interior, is changed and the building has been raised an additional story. The old stone wall remains the first story, with a second story of brick, and the decorative pediment over the main doorway, which has been for years an object of interest, has been raised to cap the second story.

The greatest changes are in the interior. As one enters the door, giving last evening his card of admission to the old ordnance sergeant, Thomas H. Lawton, who has been for years the doorkeeper on festive occasions at the armory, he notices at once a decided change. The drill hall now occupies the entire length of the building, where formerly there were rooms cut off at the rear. The uniform cases which lined the north side and formed a rather inconvenient row of seats has been removed. The gun racks and the flag cases have been changed from the north to the south side, giving a clear space on the north wall for a much better display than formerly of the many historical pictures and relics of the company. Two staircases, one at either end, lead to the upper rooms. They are arranged so as to take up the least possible space, with broad platforms and easy treads. At the rear has been built a balcony for the musicians, so arranged as not to interfere with the clear floor space. The wide walls are tinted in a pale green and the metal ceiling is painted in a light gray harmonizing with the green on the walls.

The main staircase, starting from the large, front, double doors, leads to a passageway connecting with nearly all of the rooms of the second story. On the front is a large room on the south for the officers and one on the north corner for the headquarters, the colonel and his adjutant having been given a cosy room furnished in draperies and rugs and having a large, roll-top desk. A large closet opening out of this room affords space for the uniforms. In the officers' room there are also rugs and handsome draperies and each officer has a locker for his uniform. Back of this room is the quartermaster's room, which is provided with large and small drawers and lockers for the stowing of the surplus uniforms.

The passageway from the head of the stairs leads to the large company room, which extends across the entire width of the building and is nearly square. It is decorated in a pleasing combination of red and green, with draperies at the windows and a broad, brick fireplace occupying the center of the south side. The room is furnished with mission tables and chairs and has a pool table with racks and balls. This is the social room of the company, and with its equipment and opportunities for social intercourse it will undoubtedly be the centre of the social activities of the company and prove a strong attraction to the members. Opening out of the company room is the locker room, where each member has a convenient locker fitted with shelves and hangers for the care of the uniforms. In the rear is the ordnance sergeant's room and lavatories.

The bowling alleys in the basement have been put in good condition and there are to be installed shower baths and toilets and a new heating apparatus, the entire building being heated by steam.

Not only are the walls of the drill hall well covered with pictures and relics, but the walls of the second story rooms have also been hung with relics and pictures, each room having its appropriate selections. The largely increased wall space gives a much better display of these mementoes than the company ever had and it is a collection well worth keeping and seeing.

The architect for the changes in the building was Joseph M. Darling; the general contractors, Keeler & Smith, Barker Brothers & Company installed the heating apparatus, T. B. Connolly the plumbing and Seannevin & Potter the electric lighting. The rugs, draperies and furniture were furnished by the John H. Eazanjian Company.

The building committee consisted of Captain Frank P. King, chairman; Corporal William E. Bailey, secretary; Lieutenant Colonel Edward F. Cooper, Sergeant Major William Knowe, Private George C. Wilson and Colonel Charles L. F. Robinson, ex-officio.

JUNIORS GIVE EXHIBITION.

Athletic Meet at the Association Reflects Credit Upon Instructor and Pupils.

The unpleasant weather, and, possibly the near advent of Christmas, which kept many at home, prevented a large attendance at the indoor athletic meet of the Juniors of the Young Men's Christian Association in the gymnasium last evening. The exhibition was under the direction of Physical Director Frank H. Caswell and the work by the boys reflected credit upon his instruction as well as upon the adaptability of the boys to his teaching. The judges of the meet were C. E. Johnson, George DeM. Congdon, W. D. Hazard and Percy L. Bailey; the starter, C. P. Ward, and the announcer, Alfred Compton.

The first event was the 15-yard race which was run in groups of three or four, the winners in the several groups, with their times, being as follows: William Carry, 3 seconds; Edward Hass, 3 seconds; Harold Warden, 3 seconds; William Ellis, 2 1-5 seconds; Ray Jennings, 3 2-5 seconds; Donald Thurston, 3 seconds; John Harrington, 2 4-5 seconds; Edmund White, 2 4-5 seconds; Walter Langley, 3 seconds; William Peckham, 3 1-5 seconds; James Rogers, 2 4-5 seconds.

The potato race was also run in groups and the several winners and their times were: William Jennings, 25 seconds; Louis Plummer, 26 seconds; Edward Hass, 24 1-4 seconds; Edwin Barker, 25 seconds; Joseph Shea, 25 seconds; Harry Maxwell, 26 1-5 seconds; Edmund White, 24 1-4 seconds; Fred Biesel, 26 1-5 seconds; Walter Langley, 26 1-5 seconds; Earl Barlow, 26 seconds.

Following these events there was a wooden dumbbell drill by the whole class and a special wand drill.

Then came the club race in which the Owls defeated the Night Hawks, the winning team consisting of Louis Plummer, George Sullivan, Donald Thurston, Harold Warden, Earl Barlow, William Ellis, Stanley Ward and Leonard Burland.

In the obstacle race two teams were entered, the Blue Jays and the Black Birds, the victory going to the former, which was made up as follows: Walter Langley, William Hooper, Frank Hansen, Roy Jennings, Edwin Barker, John Harrington and William Jennings.

Six teams, made up of four juniors each, participated in the relay race. In the first competition the Hawks beat the Eagles, making the distance 1 minute 32-5 seconds; in the next the Yellow Birds beat the Blue Birds, time, 1 minute and 3 seconds, and in the third the Cat Birds beat the Robins in 1 minute and 4 seconds.

The concluding event was a relay race between the Juniors, first team, and the Intermediates, second team, the Juniors winning in 48 seconds.

The winning teams were made up as follows:

Hawks, Willie Carry, Harold Warden, Murray Jacobs, and Irvine Blaine; Yellow Birds, Roy Jennings, Alfred Baker, Andrew Dwyer, George Sullivan; Cat Birds, Henry Bowler, Walter Langley, William Hooper, Lold Robson; Juniors, first team, John Harrington, James Rogers, William Peckham, William Jennings.

WON BY TEAM NO. 2.

In the Father Mathew Society's bowling tournament last evening team No. 2 won three straight strings from team No. 5. Durnan of the winning team was high roller, with a single of 115 and a total of 296. Kirwin of the other team made a single of 101. The individual and team scores, were as follows:

SCHOOL CHRISTMAS ENTERTAINMENTS.

The public schools closed today for the Christmas recess, which will continue until Wednesday, January 2. This being the last day of school and the last before Christmas, a number of the schools had arranged programs appropriate to the occasion, and many had Christmas trees. Included in the latter were the five kindergartens, where special efforts are made to have the Christmas trees an event. The day was not so pleasant as it might have been and Superintendent Lull would have liked to arrange things somewhat differently on account of the weather, but he knew that the little folks would miss the trees if there were no session. So school was held as usual and the kindergartners and other schools of the lower grades had good times and started on the Christmas vacation in good spirits.
